From the Pastor: Christmas Masses: I would like to give big applause to our school children who did a wonderful singing at 4 pm Christmas Vigil Mass led by Chris Ledbetter. I also give a very special applause to Erin Clark (8th grade) who did an excellent job by being the Cantor. My thanks and appreciation go to Linda & Greg St. Juliana for joining in and leading the three vigil Masses. My appreciation goes to the members of different choir groups for the lively singing. My appreciation also goes to the instrumentalists who added very special flavor to the entire singing in all the four Christmas Masses.

Continual Prayers and Sympathies: I along with my family once again express our sincere thanks to all those who reached out to me in person and expressed sympathies over the sudden death of my sister Agnes. And also, we express our heartfelt gratitude to all those who sent sympathy cards and memorial donations. I appreciate you all so much for praying at all the four Christmas Masses. Many thanks to Patty Miller for adding a prayer for Agnes to the petitions. It was quite strengthening and soothing for me and my family members. When I passed on all your good gestures of concern to my two nieces and nephew (three siblings of my sister) they were really touched and moved in tears of gratitude to all of you. It is really a noble way of supporting one another in time of loss and pain. May the Infant Jesus keep us closer to His Love.

The feast of Epiphany: The Greek Word Epiphany (επιφάνεια), means appearance or manifestation. First, the angels revealed Jesus to the shepherds. In the Western Church, the Feast of the Epiphany celebrates Jesus' first appearance to the Gentiles, represented by the Magi, while in the Eastern Church, the feast is the commemoration of the baptism of Christ where the Father and the Holy Spirit gave combined testimony to Jesus' identity as Son of God. Later, in the synagogue at Nazareth, Jesus revealed himself as the promised Messiah, and at Cana he revealed his Divinity by transforming water into wine. These multiple revelations are all suggested by the Feast of the Epiphany.

Gospel exegesis: The Magi and the star: The Magi were not Kings, but a caste of Persian priests who served Kings by using their skills in interpreting dreams and the movements of the stars. The sixth century Italian tradition that the magi finding Jesus were three Magi: Casper, Balthazar, and Melchior, is based on the fact that three gifts are mentioned in Matthew's Gospel: gold, frankincense and myrrh. "Matthew nowhere says that there were three wise men from the East. This assumption has probably been drawn from the fact that three gifts are mentioned, and it could easily be presumed that each of the Magi brought one, although this is going beyond what the text itself says. "They are supposed to have been kings, but this stems from a very literal translation of a psalm verse: 'The kings of Tarshish and the Isles shall offer gifts' (Ps 72:10). Ancient depictions of them never involved symbols of royalty, but simply the Phrygian cap and garments of noble Persians" (Dr. M Watson). The Magi may actually have been Persian priests or Babylonian astronomers or Nabataean spice-traders. Eventually, however, they were pictured as representatives of different peoples and races. The Orthodox Church holds that the Magi consisted of twelve Kings, corresponding in number to the twelve tribes of Israel. The term magi in Greek refers to a wide variety of people, including fortune-tellers, priestly augurs, magicians and astrologers. Because of their connection with the star in this story, it is safe to conclude that Matthew identified them mostly with the last group. Possibly they came from Babylonia, or Persia, where the word magus originated. There were almost certainly Gentiles, for if they had been Jews, they would have known better than to ask King Herod about a national ruler who would challenge his dynasty! It is not clear from the story why they wanted to pay homage to a Jewish king, or what they learned about him from their observations of "his star" (Matthew 2:2) Dr. M Watson.

The Star: Commentary on the Torah by Jewish rabbis suggested that a star appeared in the sky at the births of Abraham, Isaac and Moses. Likewise, in the Book of Numbers, the prophet Balaam speaks of "a star that shall come out of Jacob." Stars were believed to be signs from God, announcing important events. Thus, the brightness of the light to which kings were drawn was made visible in the star they followed. (In the last 40 years, a number of scientists and astronomers have pointed to particular clustering of planets or stars around the time of Jesus' birth, which would have created an unusual or dramatic heavenly "portent," suggesting that perhaps Matthew's account is more historical than some exegetes might choose to believe). "But what does all of this matter? Matthew tells us that all we need to know is that, from the time of his coming into the world, the Lord was manifested to people who came from distant lands. God made the good news of this birth know to them by a suitable sign, which guided their journey. But it was necessary for the chief priests and scribes to supply the Scriptures to the strangers, so that they might reach 'the house' where they would find the one for whom they were looking." (Days of the Lord, Vol. 1, pp. 259-60)

The gifts: Gold, frankincense and myrrh may be thought of as prophesying Jesus' future. Gold was a gift for Kings; frankincense (an ancient air purifier and perfume), was offered to God in Temple worship (Ex. 30:37); and myrrh (an oriental remedy for intestinal worms in infants), was used by the High Priest as an anointing oil (Ex. 30:23), and to prepare bodies for burial. These gifts were not only expensive but portable. Perhaps Joseph sold the gifts to finance the Holy Family's trip to Egypt. The gifts might have been God's way of providing for the journey that lay ahead.

While at Christmas we celebrate Jesus' coming as the long-awaited king and Messiah of the Jewish people, on Epiphany we celebrate the revelation that Jesus is the Savior and Light of all nations - Jews, Gentiles, and all people. The star shines so brightly that it attracts magi who come from far distant countries to worship Jesus. They are not Jews, yet they are drawn to the Light of the world. The letter to the Ephesians reveals that the Light of the world was for the Gentiles as well as the Jews - Christ gathers all people into the light of his love. The reading from Isaiah also describes a gathering of diverse peoples, but this time it is to the light that emanates from the people of God.

Life Messages:

- a) Let us worship Jesus at Mass, every day if we can, with the gold of our love, the myrrh of our humility and the frankincense of our adoration. Let us offer God our very selves, promising Him that we will use His blessings to do good for our fellow men.
- b) Let us plot a better path for our lives. Just as the Magi chose another route to return to their homes, let us choose a better way of life, abstaining from proud and impure thoughts, evil habits and selfish behavior.
- c) Let us become the Star, leading others to Jesus, as the star led the Magi to Him. We can remove or lessen the darkness of the evil around us by being, if not like stars, at least like candles, radiating Jesus' love by selfless service, unconditional forgiveness and compassionate care. (Fr. A. Kadavil)

Congratulations to our Catholic schools in the Diocese of Jefferson City for their excellent performance from the Iowa Assessment taken in October of 2022.

Catholic elementary schools score high in national testing

December 14, 2022 | News

Catholic elementary students in the Diocese of Jefferson City have collectively scored above national averages in every grade level according to this year’s standardized test results. In October, the Iowa Assessment was administered to students at 37 Catholic elementary schools across the Diocese of Jefferson City — the diocese covers 38 counties in central and northeastern Missouri. Students in grades 3-8 took the tests. The results show that collectively diocesan students in every grade exceeded the national averages. Remarkably, diocesan students in fourth, sixth, seventh and eighth grades are performing at or above a grade level higher than their current grades. The results also reflect a strong response to pandemic learning challenges across the diocese, with no signs of pandemic- related academic decline demonstrated in the data.

2022 Fall Iowa Assessment Results show grade equivalent

	National average	Diocese of Jefferson City
Third grade:	3.2	3.7
Fourth grade:	4.2	5
Fifth grade:	5.2	5.8
Sixth grade:	6.2	7
Seventh grade:	7.2	8.5
Eighth grade:	8.2	9.9

“I congratulate our students, parents, teachers and administrators for this success. Everyone in the Diocese of Jefferson City can feel proud of our Catholic education system — our strength comes from their longstanding support,” said Dr. Erin Vader, superintendent. “As always, the focus of our mission is creating a Christ-centered environment for learning, where students can grow in their Catholic faith as they benefit from our strong academic tradition. Our hope is for every child to grow into a thoughtful, generous and charitable citizen who reflects Christ’s light in this world.”

Approximately 7,000 students attend Catholic elementary schools in the Diocese of Jefferson City. The cost of education is largely borne by donations to the parish of the school, making Catholic education accessible to more Catholic students.
